UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

The University of California Board of Regents announces a global search for a new UC President, following the announcement by President Drake of his decision to step down at the end of the 2024-25 academic year. A Regents Special Committee on the Selection of a President has been established to lead this effort, and we would like your input.

Town Hall Events: Sign up for public comment to share your insights on the leadership qualities, skills, and experience required for the next UC President and provide comments and guidance to the Regents Special Committee on the Selection of a President.
